

The Adventures of Melon and Turnip

"Wonderful text, beautiful rich colors, and delightful characters full of spunk. Howell's book is fun and has a positive message—what more could a parent and educator ask for?"

Jennifer LB Leese, It's Only Ink! Children's Book Review Newsletter

"I hope this book becomes mandatory in every classroom relevant to the age group that it serves. We often hear the expression, "children can be so cruel," and is there really a tougher life than the earliest years at school, where children haven't yet mastered the generosity of spirit or the subtlety of life? If only for a moment, this thought-provoking and moral story may just spark a sense of humanity in a child that discriminates. So as a parent, I cannot do anything else other than give this book my full approval and recommendation, not just for it's moral and responsibility values, but also because it engaged my own children long past the final page. This is definitely a book that will easily fit into any child's favorite collection!"

Elizabeth Batt, Elizabeth Batt Book Reviews

The Princess and the Pekinese

"I can't say enough good things about this book. I was delighted with the distinct personality of Princess Lillian, the twist in her story, and her many adventures and lessons. It was fabulous! I loved it! I can't wait for a sequel!"

Ruth Wilson, Huntress Reviews

"A charming children's picture book that deals with acceptance, getting along with others and tolerance, 'The Princess and the Pekinese' is sure to delight...The story is interesting and has a twist of an unusual nature that even the adults will find humorous. Well worth the read and sure to find its way into children's treasuries of favorite books."

Margaret Chapman, Blether Reviews

Living In A Glowing World

"Living In A Glowing World' is an irresistible collection of living, glowing gems, handed to us as gifts from a joyous heart. Ms. Howell welcomes us into a place that sings with wonder, where no detail is too small to celebrate and every moment of life is a treasure filled with promise, holiness and meaning."

Diane Farr, award-winning novelist

"Here is a marvelously spiritual, sensory feast of seasonal poetry. Howell's rich, life-affirming poetry is an antidote to cynicism, fast-food-infotainment and shock value in our culture. Her glowing words give us back a glowing world."

Kristin Johnson, My Shelf Reviews

The Pekinese Who Saved Civilization

"The Pekinese Who Saved Civilization' is a clever refreshing approach to a commentary on every issue thinkable...Addison describes his relationships with witty charm flanked by lampoonery. This perspective, told from the Pekinese's point of view, tackles serious issues head-on while keeping the humor in tow....Hilariously potent."

Sherry Russell, Midwest Book Review

"If Mark Twain wrote like a dog, he would write like Sir Addison Silber Howell, Esq...Addison [is] the canine answer to the feline bon vivant Garfield... Addison's treatise is adorable...Addison's heart-stopping face on every page makes you fall in love."

Kristin Johnson, My Shelf Reviews

The Journeying Workbook

"A provocative and useful guide to a method that can help you improve your life focus and find more purpose and wisdom. It includes guidelines to help you get started on your own journey into yourself and other levels of the universe, and offers precise examples and exercises to develop your natural talent once you've learned the basics."

Alicia Rasley, award-winning author and educator

"Ms. Howell has given you a map for your spiritual journey, a way to experience deep positive change."

Ginger Metraux Ph.D., author Inner Personalities of the Chart & Pluto, Planet of Magic and Power

Available nationally:

Biblio Distribution, Ingram, Baker & Taylor, Partners West, or your favorite wholesaler.

For more information or to schedule an author workshop, reading, or signing, please contact Trisha at (360) 563-0865 or email Trisha@HowellCanyonPress.com