

WHAT READERS SAY ABOUT LIVING IN A GLOWING WORLD

Here is a marvelously spiritual, sensory feast of seasonal poetry. Howell's rich, life-affirming poetry is an antidote to cynicism, fast-food-infotainment, and shock value in our culture. Her glowing words give us back a glowing world.—Kristin Johnson, My Shelf Reviews

An irresistible collection of living, glowing gems, handed to us as gifts from a joyous heart. Ms. Howell welcomes us into a place that sings with wonder, where no detail is too small to celebrate, and every moment of life is a treasure filled with promise, holiness, and meaning.—Diane Farr, award-winning novelist

Ms. Howell cleverly weaves her words with fascinating clarity to capture the wonder of how nature speaks to us. Living In A Glowing World will invigorate your mind, be a feast for your spirit, and will delight a voracious appetite for creativity.—Sherry Russell, Midwest Book Review

Reading this book was a wonderful experience. It made me remember the magical power of the seasons and of love. In the hectic pace we live in this world we forget the peaceful rhythm of the seasons. Living In A Glowing World reminds us to savor the beauty and to slow down.—Linda Haglund, Entrepreneur and Public Relations Specialist

A book for every occasion, for every heart, for every love, a book for everyone. Ms. Howell's precise and definitive writing style, her entertaining choice of words, and her natural images make this book easy to read and a pleasure to digest.—Tédd St. Rain, Publisher, Lost Media Arts, and author

These poems are a delight to read, an inspiration to appreciate the Now, and they elicit yearnings for the changing of seasons. These spiritual words envelop readers, opening our hearts. It is a treasure to be swept away to a simpler world, one where childlike yet ageless sentiments are seen through sensual, life-affirming images.—Alexis Hennessy, Ghost Writer

A delightful awareness of patterns and processes, both in the arrangement of the book as a whole and in the ordering of poems within each section. Howell's style is diverse enough to sustain interest through a themed collection, and her grasp of imagery and other poetic devices remains charming throughout. This book is suitable for use in poetry classes, and some of the poems would serve well in seasonal rituals or other nature readings. Most highly recommended.—Elizabeth Barrette, Sime-gen Reviews

Living In A Glowing World is a beautiful collection of inspirational poetry. Trish Howell writes in a magical, powerful style that makes you hunger for more as her words stir every emotion within you. Perfect for reading anytime of the day, anywhere, Living In A

Glowing World is sure to awaken your appreciation and gratify your senses.— Jennifer LB Leese, It's Only Ink! Book Reviews

*If you love poetry, you'll fall in love with Trisha Howell's new book—Living In A Glowing World. As I read each page of this most congenial and mystical book, I thoroughly enjoyed the magic and the indulgence of emotions that were dredged up within my soul.
