Exciting Adventure with Unique Characters Creates Values and Lessons for Children

Come along and have fun on an exciting journey of self-discovery!

In The Adventures of Melon and Turnip children travel along with two delightful characters on an exciting journey of self-discovery. Along the way, they experience important insights about caring and friendship, choosing happiness, making dreams come true, being honest and kind to others and true to themselves. They encounter wise new friends and hear their life lessons shared in song while enjoying an action-packed adventure.

Trisha Adelena Howell is the author of seven children's books. She loves interacting with both children and adults and regularly gives educational presentations at schools, libraries, bookstores and other organizations. Her lifelong love of children, children's literature, animals, poetry, and nature have come together to create this colorful book. Since 1990 Trisha Adelena Howell has published numerous articles, stories, and poems on a wide variety of subjects in newspapers, magazines, and anthologies. She holds a BA and MA in Philosophy, MA in Humanities, and MA in Critical Film Studies. She's taught at Montessori schools, Stanford University, and the University of Southern California.

Howell Canyon Press was founded in 2000 and features health-promoting and uplifting books that celebrate and enhance human functioning at our maximal physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual potentials. Howell Canyon Press is currently publishing in the areas of children's and juvenile literature, health, humor, fiction, animal, and metaphysical. Their mission is to uplift, entertain, and educate.
